MAGASIN III

PRESS RELEASE

"III in 3": a new series of short films on art as inspiration.
First up: experimental fashion designer Bea Szenfeld.

We at Magasin III believe that art has the ability to challenge and inspire people and society. In everything we do we strive to give our visitors a discovery: about art, him- or herself, or our times.

Creators in the fields of film, music, dance, architecture, literature, fashion and design are constantly inspired by each other. In our new series of short films "III in 3", which refers to Magasin III as the location and the length of the films, we talk about art with invited guests.

First up is experimental fashion designer Bea Szenfeld. Together with one of Magasin III's curators, Tessa Praun, she explores the current exhibition Markus Schinwald, which contains elements of fashion, film and psychology.
